AUTHENTIC: Beyond Therapeutic Grade

Many essential oils in the aromatherapy market today are designated "therapeutic grade." "Therapeutic" should probably imply that they are fit for aromatherapy and then there is: "grade." Some of the largest suppliers, using the 'therapeutic grade' designation, admittedly procure from large brokerages. One has to assume that the adjustments or outright adulterations from which the brokerages derive their profits are such that the oils are still left fit for aromatherapy! "Therapeutic grade" then must mean that such essential oils have been processed only to an extent that does not make them hazardous!

Essential oils from OSA are authentic, they are completely unaltered. They come to you exactly as they come out of the original distillation. Only the composition of such an unprocessed oil reflects the struggle of the plant with its environment. Brokered oils reflect the skill of a chemist to imitate nature at lower cost.

With OSA oils there are only three parties involved: the actual producer, OSA and you. OSA oils have not passed through the vats of a fourth party. We purchase from producers that make the best, not the most. Some do not make more than 20 kg of a specific oil annually!

DIRECT FROM THE PRODUCER

Our producers are identified by a producer code directly to the left of the country of origin designation. A few oils are purchased from highly reliable aromatherapy labs, designated "Trade" in the producer slot.

SIMPLES: Grown and processed according to the "Syndicat Inter Massifs Pour la Production Et L'Economie Des Simples". Arguably the most rigorous guarantee of biodynamic quality.

demeter: Grown and processed according to the DEMETER organization for organic farming wild: gathered in the wild c/org: certified organic by such organizations as Ecocert or AB.
